

INFINITY

Open Platform to Realize Global Goals.

Equation Model
[FX=Y]

Why?

Open innovation and investment has potential to solve humanity's greatest challenges, but sharing ideas on modern social media does not have a direct path from idea-to-market. There is no solution on-line, for transparent investment into trying out novel ideas, which would secure positions for idea authors and investors, without the expensive processes of patenting, and startup development.

Bright scientists and imaginative geeks continue to discuss advanced concepts at elusive locations of the Internet, - the remains of UseNet like EverythingList, SL4, Halfbakery, and so on. The ideas shared there as plain text, no matter how bright, generally don't make it into any funding platforms to be tried out. The modern instant-gratification and market-driven platforms usually require a prototype of an attractive product, or a well-traded coin to convince investors, but few innovators are willing to spend the resources, and months of uncertainty to build prototypes, or spend on marketing to promote a coin, and so the bright, life-saving ideas continue to die.

How?

We've built an on-line investment forum to convert that plain text into organized ventures from suggesting ideas to starting projects and investing into the works in public to generate and trade their shares and production. We provide estimation of risk, ROI, logic, and structure: rather than flashy prototypes - verified public works.

Overview

INFINITY (infty.xyz) is a decentralized progressive blockchain-secured web application operated as a network of independent API nodes run by regional credit institutions, that operate as financial think-tanks, creating an open marketplace of high level assets, such as goals, ideas, projects, services and products, organized by a simple equation model as backends structure, which enables rational estimation of risk, and collective decision-making, local and regional goal-alignment.

Phase 1 - [PAST]

Launch public beta with 3 non-profit nodes (US, EU, China) primarily to discuss world's issues, and aggregate ideas to solve them.

Phase 2 - <Current>

Launch banking and trade businesses in the 3 legally favorable jurisdictions, issue credit based on crypto-shares, provide company registrations for projects, and mobile wallet.

Phase 3 - [FUTURE]

Scale network by introducing new regional financial organizations, and helping launch independent regional nodes.

Community Information

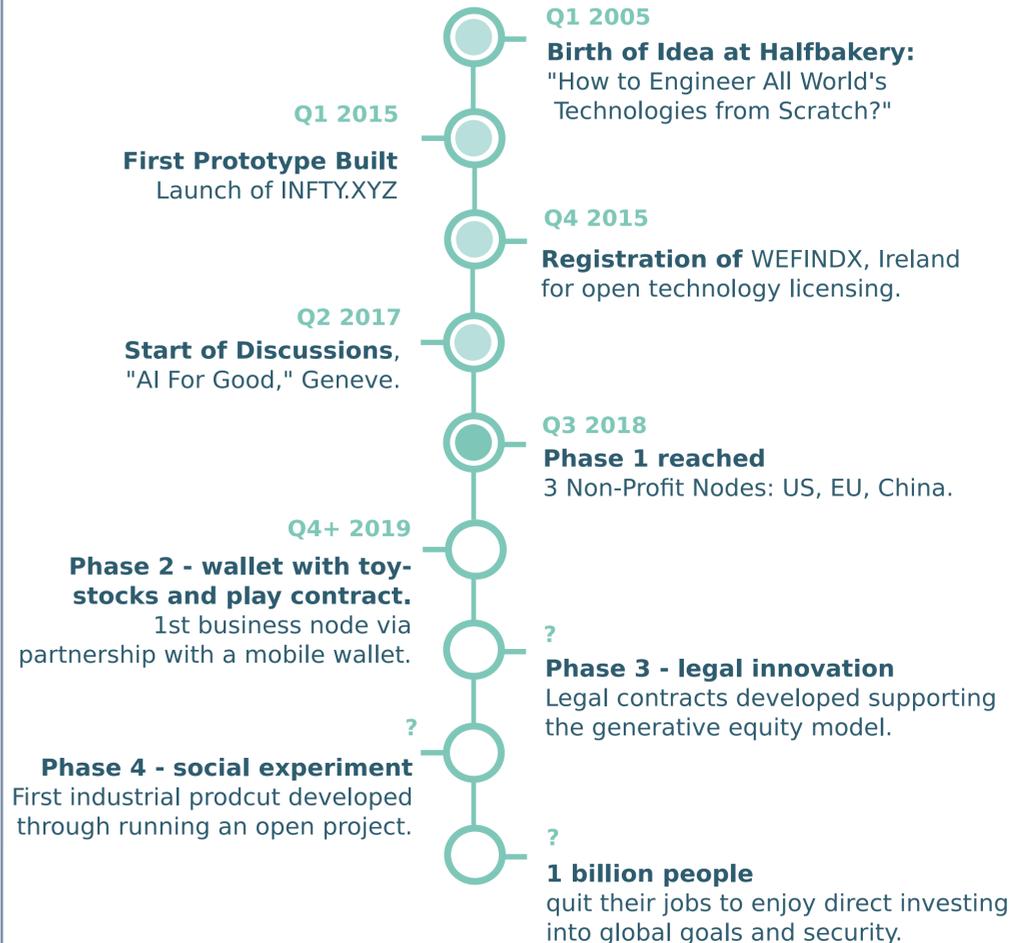

We're a community of thinkers, innovators, investors and doers, with an over-arching goal of empowering life to decide its own destiny. It is a public space for discussing world's issues, thinking and sharing ideas how to solve them, initiating projects based on those ideas, and funding them, as well as managing their execution, while sharing the process with with the world in public, so that people can understand how the work is done, and learn the procedural knowledge, as well as fund the pursuits through creating a market of data and goods. It's a full package to make sense of the world, and run a complete-information economy.

Market to Direct AIs

By 2030, it will take a village of human brains to match a $1,000 computer.
